Dear Dr Lederberg:

Thank you for your participation in the Planning Committee Meeting for the Pew Scholars Annual Meeting last Wednesday at Rockefeller. It was a pleasure to finally meet you and to hear your input on the Program, the Annual Meeting, and the Advisory Committee.

I have enclosed a diskette with files on the current Scholars, their institutions, and fields per your request. The data is in files by Scholar classes 1988 through 1991 and was created in Wordperfect. Also enclosed is a reprint from the Harvard Magazine(Nov./Dec. 1987 issue) of an article on E.O. Wilson at the Organization for Tropical Studies' La Selva Rain Forest in Costa Rica. I thought you might be interested to see it and to know that E.O. Wilson has been involved with the Organization for several years as a Advisor. It may be of interest to him to know that we plan to take the Pew Scholars to the La Selva Biological Station.

Thank you again for your assistance and guidance during the transition of the Pew Scholars Program management. Your continued contribution to the success of the program and the Advisory Committee is greatly appreciated.

Best Regards,
